The company

DBi was founded in 2012 and specializes in building portfolios that aim to outperform leading hedge funds by identifying, and investing in, the key drivers of pre-fee performance.

- Based in New York, was co-founded and is led by Andrew Beer and Mathias Mamou-Mani.
- Partially owned by iM Global Partner (non-controlling share).
- Widely followed research on hedge funds, managed futures and liquid alternatives.

Investment philosophy

DBi believes that three hedge fund strategies can be replicated efficiently:

- Hedge funds overall
- Equity hedge
- Managed futures

It follows a simple, smart and robust investment process to identify the key drivers of hedge fund performance and replicate these positions using highly liquid futures. The strategies are managed in a systematic and disciplined manner within a robust IT environment.

Key strategies

Equity Hedge

Leverages the talent and resources of some of the world's most sophisticated equity long/short hedge funds to deliver equity-like returns with lower risk over time.

Managed Futures

A proven diversifier with a low correlation to equities over the long term that seeks to provide capital protection during periods of market stress.

UCITS funds managed by DBi

- iMGP DBi Managed Futures: Based on the same Managed Futures strategy that is deployed by DBi in its US-based ETF. It seeks to replicate the pre-fee returns of a representative basket of leading managed futures hedge funds. These strategies are replicated through highly liquid futures in equity, fixed income, currencies and commodities.
- iMGP Stable Return: Combines the live benefits of DBi's Equity Hedge strategy (to generate alpha regardless of the long-term direction of equity markets) and those of the Managed Futures strategy (aimed at protecting assets during short term periods of market inflection and reducing the overall volatility of the portfolio).
- SEI Liquid Alternative Fund: Designed to generate absolute returns by replicating the core trades of 70 leading hedge funds. Built as a complement to a portfolio of stocks and bonds, it aims to deliver mid-to-high single-digit returns during normal markets and preserve capital during periods of volatility.
